

Why, How and What Oak Hill's PSHCE Curriculum

Why

- To enable our children to be healthy, responsible and independent members of society
- Help children to understand how they develop personally and socially
- To enable children to tackle the moral, social and cultural issues they will face in life
- So children know their rights and responsibilities
- To enable children to contribute to the school community and wider community

How

- Lessons taught throughout the school based around the three main areas as outlined in the PiNK curriculum; Health and Wellbeing, Relationships and Living in the Wider World
- A School Council body where children are voted in by their peers and meet regularly in order to have their voices heard and the opportunity for them to make an impact on the school
- Mental Health awareness for all staff and children and an ethos in the school where mental health is valued and supported by all

What

- Clear scheme of work in line with the National Curriculum, linked to SMSC and British Values
- Weekly PSHCE lessons which are engaging and age appropriate, following the guidance outlined in the SCARF scheme of work
- Clear and comprehensive RSE scheme of work in line with new recommendations for teaching RSE in National Curriculum (Feb 2019). Teaching of RSE planned explicitly for each year group.
